10-PAGE EDITION.

TUESDAY, : SEPT. 8, 1891.

THE attention of our readers is called to a communication from our Kohala correspondent containing a full account of the Chinese disturbances at Kohala. It is a tale of outrage and wrong which if true, must stir the indignation of every man to whom fair play and justice are more than words. If true, we say, for there are generally as many sides to a transaction as parties to it and here one must count, it would seem, the parties by the hundred. It is to be hoped that the facts will be thoroughly and impartially investigated at an early date, so that the guilty, if there are any such, may be punished and justice vindicated. At present, we purposely refrain from any comment.

To those who need a pleasant Tonic for any kind of debility, we can recommend Clements' as the best. For sale by HOLLISTER & CO.

FOREIGN CLERANINGS.

It seems that Mr. Blair will be no more acceptable to Russia than to China, as he is said to have directly accused the Czar's Government of encouraging drunkenness in order to profit by the tax on brandy.

Col. Vogel, an officer of the German Navy, who has been two years in the Chinese service examining gunboats and fortifications, arrived at San Francisco from Shanghai on the 24th. He spoke with considerable freedom to a reporter of the Chronicle, and said that he had recently talked with Li Li, the son of Li Hung Chang, Viceroy of China. Li Li states that the secret society Kow-lao holds great sway throughout the country from Canton to the Yangtze-Keang, a distance of 700 miles, and he does not doubt that there will be an overturning eventually but not immediately. The secrets of the society are very closely kept. If anybody talks, off goes his head, consequently no one talks and no one knows exactly what is what, or who is who, but the Tartar dynasty feels it.

There are ten foreign ships in the Yangtze, besides two or three big Chinese cruisers. In the Woosung are eight big Chinese cruisers, two or three gunboats and seven foreign war vessels.

"The discontent of the Chinese is with the dynasty. There are so many people and they are increasing so fast, and so permanent is the discontent that those in power see the end coming."

Tacoma capitalists have purchased the immense De Lion floating dock projected for Port Townsend, and have capitalized the Dry Dock Company at $300,000. The dock will be finished next month.

A total of thirty-five bodies have been recovered from the ruins of the building which collapsed in Park place, New York. By their names they appear to be almost all German or of German descent. The building was erected in 1872 and had never been considered unsafe. An expert who has been employed for thirty-five years in placing printing machinery, says that the resting place for the floor was insufficient to support the enormous weight on it. On the third floor alone stood nearly forty tons of machinery.

Queen Victoria shortly after reviewing the French fleet at Spithead telegraphed to President Carnot, "I wish to express to you the great pleasure I have had in receiving Admiral Gervais and his officers at Osborne, and how much I admire the French squadron which I have just reviewed."

The French President replied, "I beg Your Majesty to accept my sincere thanks for the gracious reception you were good enough to accord to Admiral Gervais and his officers, and also for the sentiments expressed in regard to the French fleet."

The death, in London, of the Rt. Hon. Henry Cecil Raikes, Postmaster-General of Great Britain, took place on the 24th August. Mr. Raikes was born in Scotland in 1838, he was educated at Shrewsbury school and Cambridge, was called to the bar in 1863 and entered Parliament in 1868. In 1886 Lord Salisbury appointed him Postmaster-General.

The Emperor of Germany has shown himself again on horseback in public. In a speech at a banquet at Berlin on the 24th he said, "We all hope for peace, and should war come it will not be our fault."

It is announced that the Venezuelan Congress has rejected the reciprocity treaty proposed by the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley have left Switzerland for Paris. Stanley has almost recovered from the injury to his leg which he sustained through a fall while at Merano.

The sealing schooner Sayward returned to Victoria from the Behring sea with 800 skins. She is the first to return without being ordered to leave the sea. The captain says that seals were plentiful and that he could have doubled his catch but his Indian crew became afraid of seizure and insisted on returning home.

The State Board of Railroad Commissioners have addressed a letter to the Manager of the Union Pacific informing him that the entire line of the Kansas Central Railroad must be rebuilt without delay with a new steel track, or steps will be taken to revoke the road's charter.

CORRESPONDENCE.

We do not hold ourselves responsible for the statements made, or opinions expressed by our correspondents.

Mr. ENTICK: Last evening a member of my household ran against a lighted lamp which was being carried.

This incident reminded me of the fact that there was no water in the pipes and the only water I had in my house was about an inch in the bottom of our tub, which was the remainder of half a tub full that I had caught the previous night, the balance having been used for kitchen and household purposes.

Now I thought if my house had caught fire, and the Fire Department had turned out to help me, what would they have done? Why, they would have joined with my family in seeing it burn to the ground because there would be no water to put it out with.

Now I have several thousand dollars insurance on my house and furniture, and while it would be annoying to be burned out and lose many things that could not be replaced, the burden of the loss would fall on the insurance company.

Now insurance company if you had to pay me five thousand dollars to-day because there was no water in the pipes last night, what would you do about it? Why, I suppose that you would pay the bill just the same, but for your future protection I should think that you would send a polite but urgent protest to the Minister of the Interior and to the Superintendent of the Water Works, asking that your property rights be protected, and that arrangements be made as quickly as possible to remedy this danger.

The housekeeper has been long protesting, and now it is no more than fair that the insurance men should have a say.

The Superintendent of the Water Works has done his best, and with toil, ingenuity and watchfulness to an extent little known to the public in general, has made a little water spread out as much as possible to give all a share.

I want it understood that I do not write this piece for the purpose of blaming the Superintendent of Water Works, for I think that with the present means at his disposal he could do no better, but my purpose is to bring more forcibly before the public and the Government a great need and danger.

Now for the practical point, and this is, that as has already been written in your columns, the result of an inspection of a small-sized Blake pumping plant, pumping from only two of the twenty-two artesian wells at Ewa Plantation, shows that its capacity is more than equal to the whole average supply of Honolulu, and in the opinion of many a similar plant placed in Honolulu over the same number of wells, and probably not having to run more than an average of three months in a year, would save us henceforth and forever from another water famine.

If there is at present a water appropriation from which it can be taken, it ought to be attended to at once; if not, then it ought to be one of the first things to be attended to at the next Legislature which even then may be too late to be ready again for the summer of 1892.

September 3d. ONSERVER.

A GREAT LAW CASE.

One of the most important actions ever brought in this Kingdom is now pending in the Supreme Court. The reference is to the petition for revocation of order admitting to probate the will of Keliiahonui.

Keliiahonui was one of the ancestors of the Kalakaua family. He died in 1849 leaving a very large estate by devise to his wife Kekauonohi. Kekauonohi married Haalelela, to whom upon her death in 1851 she left her property. Haalelela sold a great deal of it during his lifetime and upon his death the residue was distributed among his heirs.

The will of Keliiahonui was admitted to probate in February, 1855. In 1865 a petition was filed in the Supreme Court with a view to setting aside the will on the ground of forgery. A. F. Judd and W. C. Jones were counsel for the petitioner. The evidence going to show that the will was forged was very strong but Judge Robertson who heard the case took the ground, that he would not set aside the will unless the evidence of its fraudulent character was beyond a reasonable doubt, thus applying a rule of evidence valid only in criminal procedure to a civil case. An appeal was taken but W. C. Jones failed to perfect it, and a writ of error was refused. Thus the case never reached the Court in Banco.

In 1880, as readers of the ADVANTAGE will remember, a second attempt was made to set the will aside on the part of Junius Kaue, claiming under his deceased wife, who was a grand-daughter of the testator. The case excited great attention at the time and was very thoroughly argued, but a plea of res adjudicata was sustained and the petition dismissed.

And now a third attempt is made to set aside this memorable, much debated will. The petitioner is again Junius Kaue, but he has acquired a new interest by purchase. The defenses have set up a plea in bar and a demurrer. The plea is the old one of res adjudicata. The grounds of demurrer are three:

1. Want of jurisdiction (on the ground that a court of probate cannot reverse its own decrees).

2. Failure of the motion to set forth the new evidence and names of witnesses.

3. Laches.

The plea and demurrer have been argued and the case, which was heard by Judge, Judge, is now under consideration. The case involves the title to some of the finest properties in this Kingdom.

MONDAY, Sept. 7.

The hot weather last week knocked every semblance of inspiration out of the advertisement writer's head, but business goes along just the same, no matter how the weather is.

And hot weather creates stronger desires than ever for ice cream. Make it at home then and save money. The time don't count to your servants, and thirteen minutes is not very long, anyhow, to freeze cream. That's what the White Mountain Freezer will do, and do it well, too.

Barefooted Bill still keeps on his travels and you have not yet bought a Safe—probably. After he gets into the house or store, walks off with everything but your family, you'll calculate to get one. Better do it now and save money. Don't postpone the matter, because someone says in the papers "We must have detectives." Suppose they get 'em, will they get the burglar? We think not. A detective from the Coast would not amount to shucks. Better not wait longer, buy a Safe now.

More Water Coolers arrived since we told you of them a few weeks ago. The last notice we inserted was a suggestion which lots of people acted upon. And they've been acting upon it ever since, so we had to buy more.

There will be more weddings shortly, and you may not have thought much about presents. What about the Brass Tables with onyx tops that we have. A beautiful ornament and useful, too, if you want to put a vase of flowers or a statuette on it.

We have other things just as useful and pretty, for such occasions. Come in and look around. There's always some one to wait upon you whether you purchase or not.

We said something about a lot of new lamps to arrive last week. They didn't come, but they'll be here this week, sure. We have plenty as it is, but this is a new lot. We can suit you in lamps if any one can.

Stoves, Ranges, Tinware and Agateware are things used every day. We have been
